"G-Men" in Washington County?

Former Postmaster Said to Be Living in Canadian Town Sheriff Receives Information Concerning A. L. Alexander

Definite information has been received by Sheriff J. K. Reid from unrevealed sources that A. L. Alexander, former postmaster of Plymouth and well-known business man, who disappeared from Plymouth Monday, October 21, 1935, was in St. Katherine, Ontario Province, Canada.

The information is both definite and reliable and came through legal sources but the sheriff would not reveal the actual sources to the press. In fact he did not tell Mrs. Alexander and the family how he obtained the information, but did tell them where Mr. Alexander was.

It is expected that the matter will drop where it is, as it would cost some $1,500 to extradite him from the country that borders the United States on the north. His deserted family does not have the money to bring him back.

The meager information was to the effect that Mr. Alexander was working for or was a partner in a large fur-buying organization that operated in Canada. For years, Mr. Alexander was a fur buyer in Plymouth in addition to his regular duties as a merchant/farmer.

A representative of the famed "G-men" organization in Plymouth some time ago but did not get any information, so far as could be determined, about Mr. Alexander.

It is the opinion that the matter will drop where it is, as it is too expensive to secure the extradition of Mr. Alexander, who, it is sure, would fight the procedure. (RB 31 Jan 1936)

Member Query:

Good afternoon, I am a new member to the WCGS and I have a question. Are the back issues of the newsletter available for purchase or published somewhere that I may be able to access at a library (I live in Memphis, TN). My maternal grandmother's family is from Plymouth and I have been doing a lot of research into that line of my family. It seems that a lot of good information is in the newsletter and I would love to see back issues. Thanks for any information you can provide :-). Taneya taneya@gmail.com

Editor Response: Several libraries across the US have been members of WCGS for years and may have copies available for research. We have discussed making the newsletters available on CD and solicit suggestions from members as to whether the newsletters should be posted on the "net" or made available for purchase on CD. We'd welcome help from members who'd volunteer to scan the earliest issues.

Bible Records:

Some of the following have appeared in previous issues; however, to bring them all together, we are printing them again. Most are also available online. Virginia C. Haire has additional records which we hope to include in the final issue of WCGS News for 2006. Members are asked to submit their own Bible records to WCGS.

Welcome to Davenport Heritage Day 2006

(Reprint of Handout)

Today you are visiting one of the oldest surviving homes in Washington County. This old house has been home for descendants of Daniel Davenport since about 1770. Some of the family members lived here continuously for over two hundred years.

Davenport ancestors made their way across the Albemarle Sound from Perquimans County in the early 1700's. They assumed the responsibility of building homes and establishing families here in the vicinity of the Scuppernon River and the Albemarle Sound, setting down permanent roots in communities like this.

Daniel Davenport was among those who initiated the formation of Washington County from Tyrrell County in 1799, and was one of its earliest senators. He was elected to another term, but died in 1807 before the new oath of office was administered.

It was while researching Davenport ancestors, the deed for his property was discovered naming his five daughters as surviving heirs. He died intestate, and this Upriver property was surveyed as one tract containing a total of 996 acres. It was divided among the five daughters: Nancy, Acenath, Priscilla, Elizabeth and Unice. His first wife was Sarah Nichols, daughter of James Nichols and Priscilla Hassell. We have been unable to find a date of death for Sarah, or a marriage date for Daniel to Lucretia Comstock who filed for her dower rights from his estate. Therefore, we are not certain which, or if any, of the children were Lucretia's.

Over the years the lands, except this Davenport Corner, have changed hands many times. Some of the descendants remain in the area. Hundreds of them are spread all over the United States. As people become interested in tracing their roots, many lead to the Davenports of Washington County, North Carolina.

The home has been restored to its original condition by the Historical Society of Washington County with the purpose of depicting ways of life reminiscent of the ordinary family of the 18th and 19th centuries.

It is interesting that this home has survived over two and a quarter centuries without modernization. No evidence of major repairs or renovations was found. The locally-grown, hand-hewn timbers speak well for themselves as you examine them and note how they were so well chosen and expertly crafted into a typical early American family home.

Davenport Heritage Day's purpose is to give this community and its families tribute for portraying the everyday life of the ordinary American family: industrious, resourceful, proud, caring, patriotic. These strong beliefs in God, family and country are the roots from which we came and the ties that bind us together for the future. (For more info on the Davenport Homestead, to arrange tours, group or individuals, etc., contact Loretta Phelps, 252-797-4336.) For photos taken during the 2006 Day, see the 7th June issue of the Roanoke Beacon. Other handouts included a 10-generation descendency chart for Richard Davenport, 1642-1714 (married Johanna.)

WCGS News:

Our next regular meeting of WCGS is set for Sunday, 16th July, 2:30 pm in the fellowship hall of First OFWB Church, US 64 West, Plymouth. Joan Spruill Boudreux (Creswell native) will be our speaker. In October, our speaker will be Chris Grimes. This will be our annual meeting and my last as president. Virginia C. Haire is our president-elect. She has done an outstanding job planning programs over the last years, as have our other officers in their respective positions. BUT: WCGS needs young active genealogists to become involved. There is still much work to be done, family trees need to be shared - and, we are working on the final volumes of cemetery records which we hope to have to the printer before year's end.

In our last issue, an attempt to include a photocopy of a newspaper article about Dr. William Hardy Hardison met with negative results. A copy is enclosed with each issue of this newsletter being mailed to our members.

Officers of Concord Primitive Baptist Church Preservation Society, Inc. are meeting this month to plan for Homecoming 2006. Recent work at the old meeting house includes repairs to the roof.

Despite heavy rains throughout the area, festivities went on as planned at the Davenport Homestead near Creswell the first Saturday in June. Hats off to Rett and her crew! Chris Grimes and Bill Barber were recruiting soldiers into the Fifth North Carolina Regiment. We've copied their handout which is enclosed separately.

And - the Washington County Historic Heritage Committee (formerly the Bicentennial Committee) has ceased to exist. Its purpose having been served, funds remaining were distributed to the Washington County Historical Society, WCGS, Concord, the Davenport Homestead and Rehoboth, each for a specific purpose to help promote / preserve our historic heritage. Only a very limited number of "Washington County, NC: a Tapestry" are now available and can be purchased from WCGS for $40 each.

Last minute news: Steve Davenport posted this info on the NCWASHIN-L@rootsweb.com mail list: The 1860 Beaufort Co., NC Census is now online on the Beaufort Co., NC GenWeb Pages, at: <http://www.rootsweb.com/~ncbeafor/bo1860.htm> The 1860 Slave Schedule will follow shortly. The Beaufort Census Page, which has early Tax Lists and Census Records from 1790 thru 1860, is at: <http://www.rootsweb.com/~ncbeafor/bocensus.htm> As most of you know, I was asked to become host of the Beaufort Co., NC GenWeb Pages in February. Since then, we have added over 850 pages of data to the new Beaufort Co., NC GenWeb Pages, at: <http://www.rootsweb.com/~ncbeafor/ncbeau.htm> Your assistance and contributions are appreciated.
